If you have a lawn or grass plot and are seeking real satisfaction, you will never find it till you possess a "Twin Comet" or "Little Giant" Lawn Sprinkler. It works automatically. All you have to do is to set the machine in the center of your lawn, "press the button" by turning the water on, and the Sprinkler does the rest while you can sit and read or watch its wonderful accomplishment. One of these machines can be seen in operation any evening on the terrace at "Riverview," the home of the writer.

James Cummings, one of the most desperate burglars in the state, is in custody. At Radcliffe Saturday Cummings and a pal named Charles Pink entered the Post-office and store of L. F. Watson and secured $18 in currency and some dry goods, which they carried away. Cummings was captured and confessed to the theft. Pink has so far eluded the officers. Cummings was arrested last winter for shooting a man at Grayson, but was cleared. He was in trouble in the Bluegrass once for robbing a comrade of $22 and shooting a horse.

TURNUED THE TABLES.

Sixth Ward Witnesses Who Got the Worst Kind of It.

The LEDGER stated on Thursday last that several young men had been arraigned before the Police Judge as witnesses in a case.

The case in question was that of a young man from the old part of the city who had dared to visit a young lady in the Sixth Ward.

For thus venturing into that sacred domain he had been industriously "rocked" by the aforesaid young men, and as a last resort he had opened fire on them with a gun.

The young man who did the shooting was Mr. Ernest Ort, and the names of the witnesses who were summoned to convict him of the charge of shooting in the city limits were Andrew Thomas, Charles Austin, Dexter Dryden, George Hill, Charles DeAtley and Lemuel Hilderbrand.

When the case was called last week before Judge Wadsworth, Mr. Ort's attorney, "Senator" Tom Wood, smelt a very large sized mouse, and at once procured a warrant for each one of the witnesses named, charging them with a breach of the peace.

This was in the nature of a "boomerang," and prompted the advisor of the young men to secure an attorney for their defense.

The attorney employed was Mr. John L. Whitaker, and it will be remembered that out of his consultation with his clients grew the difficulty between himself and Officer Purcell, which has already been detailed at length in THE LEDGER.

It will be remembered, also, that Mr. Whitaker demanded a Jury for the trial of his clients, and that the case was continued until 9 o'clock Monday morning.

At the appointed hour the trial began before Police Judge Wadsworth and lasted until far into the afternoon.

At its conclusion the Jury took all the facts under consideration, and after much deliberation assented a fine of $1 and costs in the cases of Thomas, Austin, Dryden, Hill and DeAtley, making a sum total of $5 that each of the lads will pay for his fun, as it was proven to the satisfaction of the Jury that these were the young men who did the rock-throwing.

Lemuel Hilderbrand was adjudged innocent of the charge and the case against him was dismissed.

Upon a submission of the facts to the Court in the case of Mr. Ort, the Court decided that he had a perfect right to defend himself from the attacking party, and the charge against him was promptly dismissed.

BRICK STREETS.

To any one who has visited cities where brick streets have been constructed it is only necessary to call attention to the fact to have them at once decide in favor of this class of street construction.

But, as there are many persons who have not had the opportunity to see and examine streets of this kind, it may be necessary to say a few words.

In the first place, under the present system of macadamized streets it is just simply a continued round of hauling stones on the streets and, in a few days, hauling the resultant mud and dirt away, which is occasioned by the grinding up of the stones from the constant heavy hauling going on.

While it is true that it is much better to have this than to have streets without anything else, in this day of improvement, all the cities have been making experiments to arrive at the very best material with which to construct their streets, and regard being had to economy and durability.

The almost unanimous sentiment is that the brick street is the very best that "I am opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver, believing it would destroy all National property. The gold dollar is the best dollar, and I am in favor of making every other dollar equivalent to it in value. I am the friend of silver, and believe it can be best protected by holding it in such bonds as will insure its parity with gold as a circulating medium."—W. O. BRADLEY.

A WRITER in Ganton's Magazine for May makes a remarkable contrast between two remarkable men and more remarkable conditions. Says the writer: "Poor Mr. GLADSTONE, after inheriting a fortune supposed to be ample for all the needs of a gentleman and living practically in the obligation to signalize his retirement from the longest career as a party leader ever known, by selling his library and works of art to reduce his expenses. On the contrary, our American President reviews his short period of office-holding, only 12 years in all, to find that it has lifted him from a bachelor's life in Buffalo into the honor of being the first to retire from the Presidency a millionaire." Of course Mr. CLEVELAND, being a Democrat at Jeffersonian simplicity, saved all this money out of his salary.

STARRED TO DEATH.

Charge of Horse Stealing at Maysville Cause of the Tragedy.

A special from West Union says a shocking murder was committed near Mineral Springs Saturday night.
A number of young people were on their way home from Church, among them being Nat. Dodge, a young farmer, three girls and the Taylor brothers, Thomas, Sylvester, George and Henry.

A quarrel arose between George Taylor and young Dodge about the rumor that the latter had said the former stole a horse at Maysville.

Dodge strenuously denied that he ever said it, but was immediately assaulted by two of the Taylors, and was held by two others and literally stabbed to death in the presence of the shrieking young women of the party.

His body lay where it fell until early Sunday morning.

During the night several men remained by the body, and a young sister of the murdered man, who sat down on the ground by the side of her dead brother and wept the entire night.

No entreaties could get her to leave.

Sylvester Taylor was placed under arrest.

George Taylor and his two brothers had fled and the Sheriff and a posse, among them three brothers of the murdered man, immediately started in pursuit.

FLED IN TERROR.

The President of a Defunct Louisville Company Escapes to Creditors.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 12.—President E. J. Speckart, of the defunct American Title Co., which became an assignment last week, with liabilities supposed to be about a quarter of a million dollars, fled in terror from the city. He had refused to see any persons, except a few confidential friends, since the big failure and some of those who knew the inside of the defunct company's affairs have believed all along that he would not again show his face here. But to the large number of stockholders his disappearance was a shock.
The facts which have developed show that he was afraid to meet the angry creditors of the concern.
Mr. Speckart had been at the home of the assignee, Col. James S. Ray. He told the colonel that he was in mortal dread of being assassinated by some of the creditors. Two men accompanied Col. Ray's residence in a buggy on Saturday. Mr. Speckart entered it and was driven off. He has not been seen since.

Against the Columbus Street Railway Company by Judge Evans.
COLUMBUS, Ky., May 12.—Judge Evans, of the common pleas court, has rendered an important decision affecting street railway companies. The question came up in the case of the City of Columbus vs. The Cross-Town Street Railway Co.

In passing upon the case Judge Evans said: "Abstaining from owners have an interest in the street and in an improved roadway, the cost of which has been assessed upon their abutting lots, and it appears to be equitable and just that where a street railway company lawfully appropriates to their own use a portion of an improved street, they should pay a reasonable sum for such appropriation."

Although seriously injured he remained on the cabin roof of the Brown and directed the work of rescue of the wounded and others of the boat's crew that were in the water.

The steamer Harry Brown arrived in New Orleans Thursday night from Louisville with coal barges and was returning up the river with a tow of empty barges. The Harry Brown is owned by St. Louis parties and valued at about $20,000. The boat carried a crew of 30 men.

The towboat Harry Brown was built at Pittsburgh in 1870. She was classed as one of the largest and most powerful boats on the Ohio or Mississippi rivers. Her dimensions are registered as follows: 310 feet long, 49½ feet beam and 5 feet. John Kern, of Pittsburgh, was captain. She was commanded by Capt. John Kern, of Pittsburgh.

MONTHLY CROP REPORT

What the State Bureau Says of the Crops For April.

The report for this month is taken from replies received from 135 correspondents, representing 108 counties.

WHEAT.

There is a general report of improvement in the condition of wheat during April. The forcing weather which prevailed during the entire month has brought the crop from what was an extremely backward condition to something very nearly approaching a normal condition of growth for the season. There is still quite a deficiency in the thickness of the plant on the ground, the dry weather having been unfavorable to branching. From three counties complaints are received of damage being done to the crop by chinch bugs.

The average condition is given at 74 being an improvement of 5 points for the month. On average the average is 97. The acreage had not decreased to the extent anticipated, which is partly accounted for by the fact that many fields were seeded to grass with the wheat which prevented their being plowed up. The acreage is further assisted by increase in the Eastern and Southeastern portion of the state, caused by the recent establishment of improved four mills. This section heretofore practically grew no wheat and the change is marked in its effect in the average acreage.

OTHERS.

The oat crop represents several stages of advancement at this time. The early sown oats, although suffering to some extent from the absence of moisture has made fair progress, while the late sown has from the same cause experienced some difficulty in germinating. The acreage averages 81.

CORN.

Corn planting is practically over. In the Central and Southern section some fields are up and are being cultivated. The early corn where not interfered with by worms is looking well and an excellent stand was obtained; but by far the larger portion of the crop is yet in the ground and a general report on condition is impractical at this time. All correspondents report a large percentage of 1905 crop still in farmers' hands.

The acreage for 1906 is given at 97.

TOBACCO.

Correspondents report a very general disposition to reduce the acreage for 1906. The low price coupled with the large per cent. of the 1905 crop still unmarketed is having a depressing effect on production. The acreage for 1906 as compared with an average year is given at 81. Per cent. of 1905 crop still in first hands is 40. From four counties reports of great damage to plants by the flea are received.

HEMP.

The average yield per acre for crop of 1905 which is now broken out is 1,020 pounds per acre. The acreage for 1906 compared with an average year is estimated at 103.

PASTURES AND MEADOWS.

Condition of pastures and meadows average 86 and 87 respectively. Number of hogs being fattened for market as compared with an average year by per centage is given at 99. Seventy correspondents representing fifty-two counties report the presence of hog cholera. Forty-six counties report no cholera or other contagious diseases.

SHEEP.

Lamb crop as compared with an average year is given at 85. Lambs are in excellent condition for the season.

HORSES AND MULES.

Number of colts foaled as compared with an average year is 57. Number of mares being bred as compared with an average year is 60. Number of mule colts foaled as compared with an average year is 54. With a diminished production a return of profitable prices for both horses and mules might reasonably be expected, were it not for the large surplus of mated stock.

DROUGHT.

The drought during April was unprecedented for the season. From thirty-one counties the complaint of damage to wheat oats and young grass is especially noticeable.

CUTWORMS.

From thirteen counties reports of great damage from this source to corn, tobacco beds and clover were received. In view of the very early report of the presence of these pests this season, it is gratifying that the damage is no greater than reported. Warm weather has prevailed now for a period of a month and it is reasonable to suppose that the eggs producing the worms have mainly been hatched.

FRUIT CROP.

The outlook for the fruit crop is bright. While we may not expect apples and these fruits that bore so profusely last year to repeat the phenomenal crops, still a fair crop of these seem to be assured; while peaches, cherries and all other stone fruits promise abundant crops. The indications at present are that this will be a banner peach year.

Small fruits are also in good condition with the exception of strawberries, which have suffered somewhat from drought.

Philadelphia Ledger.

As a well known banker alighted from his carriage in Wall street yesterday an old merchant turned to your correspondent and said:

"I remember the time when a man's credit would have suffered if a business man came to his office in a carriage. On those days one was looked upon with suspicion if he carried a cane, unless he was actually lame. A man would have had difficulty in arranging a loan at his bank if he wore a moustache, as it was considered the appendage of a 'sport.' I well remember that when, as a young man, I began to cultivate the growth of hair on my upper lip my employer gave me a friendly warning. Yet one could then go to business in what is now evening dress, and yet be considered as properly, though elegantly attired. Now a man would be hooted at in the streets if he should wear his evening dress in the daytime. But times have changed greatly, or rather fashion has, for human nature is the same. After a long business career my deliberate judgment is that it pays to wear good clothes, fashionably made. I remember when as a boy I began my business career at $6 a week. I was sent on an errand to the swell tailor's establishment of the city. After I had done my errand the tailor looked me over, and noticing my country-made clothes, said to me that I ought to order a new suit, explained to him my financial condition, when he said to me kindly: 'My boy, whatever it might cost, it would be the best business investment you could make. With fashionably cut garments, your own confidence and self-esteem will be enhanced and other people will think better of you,' and he generously offered to make me a suit and let me pay for it whenever I could or not at all. He was right. It was as good an investment as I could have made, for I believe the habit it gave me of always wearing good clothes helped me immensely in my business career. I traded with that tailor for over thirty years."

The Detroit and Cleveland Steam Navigation Company's steamers are now running daily (except Sunday) between Detroit and Cleveland. When traveling East or West, North or South, try to arrange to take advantage of these luxurious steamers between Michigan and Ohio. If you are contemplating a summer outing, write A. A. Schantz, 9 P. A. De Troy, Mich., for illustrated pamphlet, which gives full information of a trip to Mackinac via the Coast Line.
